

2021 Quintet Association Meeting - Election Results

Over 120 Quintet residents attended the Zoom meeting on Monday night. Tim Miller from Kin Living chaired the meeting. On the agenda were election of Quintet directors and approval of the tax ruling. Six residents ran for election – a record number according to long-time residents. The top three vote getters in alphabetical order were Jim Dodson (incumbent), Elva Kopacz (incumbent) and Philip Wu. Congratulations to all three. The tax ruling was approved unanimously. Chairperson Joan Buttram thanked Mary Fran Faupel, who did not run for re-election, for her two-year service as Board Secretary as well as all of the resident volunteers who serve the Quintet's board and committees.

Following the Quintet Association meeting, the Board of Directors held an organizational meeting to elect officers for the coming year. Joan Buttram and Jim Dodson were re-elected as Chairperson and Treasurer and Kaci Baugh as Secretary. All received the unanimous support of all board members.

Sunday Conversation Highlighting Women's Work

Women's roles have changed dramatically over the last few decades. Please share your story during the Q Study Group meeting to honor Women's History Month. On Sunday, March 28th at 3 PM, Quintet residents Jane Edwards and Jo Anne Gilchrist will talk about their own non-traditional career choices and then invite attendees (both men and women) to reflect on women's career choices - their own, or that of others. Request a zoom invitation, email Marilyn Schirk at marandfrank@comcast.net.

Calling All Sore Muscles and Weary Bodies

Repairs of the Clubhouse spa have been completed and the spa will re-open this Friday. One individual or two from a single household may sign up for 30 min. soaks. The number of individuals who may sign up for a single block in the gym has been increased to three. No changes were made for the pool. All other rules are still in effect. Clubhouse hours remain limited because of staff availability for COVID-required cleaning. The Clubhouse is open to residents only, no guests are permitted. The Board of Directors will review Clubhouse use, including the gym, pool, and spa, at its April meeting. Residents' input is welcomed.
